THE GAZETTE.

THURSDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 18.

GENERAL NEWS.

The French academy of medicine, at Paris, has lately brought to light a horrible state of affairs in regard to the habit of sending children to the country to be nursed and brought up. Every year twenty thousand babies are sent out of Paris under the care of these peasant nurses, and of that number only five thousand, on an average, are returned to their mothers, the other fifteen thousand having died of cold, starvation and bad treatment.

It is a common notion that the publication of the number of deaths from any epidemic may shake the nerves of the people and lead to terror in times of epidemic visitation; but experience shows that the publication of the facts quiet, instead of disturbing, the popular mind; and while it reveals the exact amount of the danger, robs it of the halo of alarm with which the imagination surrounds indefinite pestilence.

The government has received official information that the last of the Fenian prisoners in Ireland, who claimed to be citizens of the United States, had been released by the British government; that his firearms had been returned to him, and he had been shipped for his home upon a vessel bound for this country.

A clergyman in Utica, New York, has been preaching against "the awful crime of base ball playing," and can "see nothing but ruin to the young men who engage in it." We presume he will soon preach against bass singing.

It is not generally known that coffee that has been beaten is better than that which has been ground. Such, however, is the fact.
